Beautiful Lake Minnewanka

Sailing along o'er thy waters so clear,
Cares disappear, Heaven seems near,
Fair Minnewanka such beauty as thine
Brings to one Peace that's Divine.

Situated about eight miles from Banff in a deep and narrow valley, nearly a mile above sea level and encircled by mighty mountains whose cliffs rise sheer from the water's edge. This Lake, thirteen miles long, one and one-half miles wide and of unfathomed depth, offers numerous attractions to the visitor.

THE LAUNCH TRIP on the Lake is unrivalled for enjoyment and beauty, presenting views, first of Gibraltar Rock and Mt. Astley, then snow-capped Mt. Aylmer (alt. 10,365) rearing its majestic head on the left, closely guarded by the Ramparts, stretching grim and forbidding to Mt. Costigan's torn and twisted shoulder. The Devil's Gap. The Redman's Pathway to the Plains disclosing for a moment a glimpse of the world outside of the mountains. Then Silvery waterfalls cascading from Fairholme's snowfields hold the eye as the launch glides through waters clear as crystal, reflecting Nature's beauties on every side.
